What does Early Stage 2 mean?

The State of California lays out multiple phases of Stage 2 to be gradually implemented based on the readiness of a county. The state may certify some counties to qualify to move on to Expanded Stage 2 faster if they are able to show greater progress. Counties that have met the criteria and filed an Attestation are listed here.

What Stage of the California Resilience Roadmap is Mono County in right now?

As of May 8th, Mono County is in Early Stage 2. The Governor's Stay-at-Home Order remains in effect throughout the state, and non-essential travel is still prohibited. Mono County's reopening plan is in alignment with the California Resilience Roadmap, and we will apply for advancement into Expanded Stage 2 when we've met the
